FURY AS FATCAT OPRAH BUYS DIET COMPANY!

Hefty Oprah fattened her bank account – and regained tons of flab

TV titan's cashing in on yo-yo weight war -Critics charge

O PRAH WINFREY, who has waged a lifelong losing battle of the bulge, is facing a bitter backlash after buying a stake in Weight Watchers and becoming a diet spokesperson!

The former talk show queen is being ridiculed by fans and turning into an even fatter fatcat out to add a mountain of cash to her $3 billion fortune!

"How can she be an inspiration to lose weight when she has a private chef and still can't shed the pounds?" asks one irate woman in an Internet post.

"Oprah's going to try another diet platform? What a joke!" blasts a critic. "She has reinvented herself every five years — fat to thin to fat. It has made her millions. Just another business move."

As her best friend, "CBS This Morning" host Gayle King, announced she'd lost 10 pounds on Weight Watchers, Oprah revealed she'd bought 10 percent of the company. The stock soared and her $43.2 million stake more than doubled in value in just two days.

"Weight Watchers has given me the tools to begin to make the lasting shift that I and so many of us who are struggling with weight have longed for," she says.

Oprah, 61, has battled obesity for 40 years.

In 1988, she famously lost 67 pounds in three months, dropping to 130 pounds on a liquid protein diet. She proudly showed off her svelte figure to her TV audience in a pair of Calvin Klein size 10 jeans.

Since then, she has yo-yoed wildly between 134 pounds and a whopping 280!

Now critics say the hefty media mogul better get with the program — fast! "She better drop 100 pounds in the first year ... or watch that stock plunge!" warns one.

CHER'S DYING WISH: A WIFE FOR CHAZ!

Sex-swap son can't find love

DYING Cher is desperately begging her transgender son, Chaz Bono, to find a wife! The 69-year-old superstar, who is battling a killer virus and emotional stress, is fading fast, fear friends.

"Cher's last wish is for Chaz to find real love and happiness," says a source.

"She blames herself for much of the agony Chaz has endured as he changed gender. It was a really tough thing for Cher to deal with and she wasn't very supportive.

"But as she faces her final days, all she wants is to see him happily married."

Cher's dramatic plea came as Chaz, 46, made the shocking confession that he's striking out in his bid to find a permanent partner — or even a date.

"I seem to repel women that I am attracted to," admits Chaz, who wears guy's clothing and sports a full beard after hormone replacement therapy. "I have been single for four years.

Male mentality

"I haven't really been dating. I do think women have a different idea when you ask them out for a date than what it actually is."

Chaz says he asks out women he finds "interesting" and would like to get to know better.

"But I think they think it is more than that somehow," he says.

Although he was born female and spent his childhood as Chastity Bono, the daughter of rock icons Sonny and Cher, he admits, "I don't have any insight into women. I have always been in a male mentality."

However, he did live for years as a lesbian. When Chastity transitioned from female to male between 2008 and 2010, she was with Jennifer Elia. They became engaged in 2009 and planned to wed in 2012. Sadly, they split in December 2011.

"Chaz has been alone ever since," says a source. "But Cher is determined to see him wed before she dies."

The Oscar-winner recently flew to Germany to secretly undergo a "miracle" treatment for her illness in a last-ditch bid to cheat death, sources reveal.

"Cher announced she'd gone overseas for a holistic remedy but the truth was she was seeking stem cell treatment not available in the U.S.," says an insider.

JACKIE KENNEDY SUICIDE BOMBSHELL!

■ RAVAGED by agonizing, incurable cancer, beloved icon Jackie Kennedy Onassis masterminded her own death – with help from son John Jr.!

And there was no autopsy to uncover the truth!

But, in a bombshell revelation, a family insider now admits the widow of both assassinated President John F. Kennedy and shipping tycoon Aristotle Onassis ended her life by an “assisted suicide.”

“She chose to die on her own terms,” says the insider.

The 64-year-old former first lady “knew her secret would be safe” because she’d previously been diagnosed with non-Hodgkin lymphoma and “there would be no autopsy to reveal what really caused her death,” says the source.

“She made it clear when she was diagnosed in early 1994 that she did not want to suffer through grueling treatments that would only delay the inevitable.

“She didn’t want to put her family through the agony of watching her slowly die. She wanted to die with dignity – and she turned to John to help.”

Her legal eagle son advised her to sign a living will so she could stop treatments when she was ready.

“And he was there to assist when the time came,” notes the source.

Onassis battled cancer for four months. But on May 18, 1994, while receiving hospital treatment for pneumonia in New York, she learned the cancer spread to her brain, spinal cord and liver.

“That was it for Jackie,” says the insider. “She discharged herself and went home to her Fifth Avenue apartment.

“The next day she said goodbye and went to sleep for the last time.

“We wondered, ‘Did she assist herself in death?’ It happened so fast.”

John, who died in a plane crash five years later, never confessed his role, says the source. But he issued a statement hinting that she orchestrated her own passing.

“My mother died surrounded by the people and things that she loved,” said John. “She did it her own way, on her own terms.”

JOHN LENNON'S POST MORTEM

Yoko Ono won't let government release results

■ THE graphic autopsy report that followed the murder of John Lennon has never been released. And it's led to explosive claims the document may contain scandalous medical facts about the slain ex-Beatle that his widow, Yoko Ono, wants to keep secret forever.

On the night of Dec. 8,

1980, the 40-year-old superstar and Yoko were about to enter their historic New York City apartment building, The Dakota, when crazed stalker Mark David Chapman, 25, fired five shots at close range from a revolver. Four of the lethal hollow point bullets hit Lennon – three of them in the chest and back.

Minutes after the 10:50 p.m. shooting, Lennon was pronounced dead at Roosevelt Hospital. The next day, New York's chief medical examiner Dr. Elliot M. Gross conducted an autopsy and announced the superstar died of hemorrhaging and shock induced by the massive amount of bleeding.

After Chapman was sentenced to 20 years to life for the murder, grieving Lennon fans besieged the medical examiner's office with demands for the report to be made public. But they were told the report could only be unsealed with Yoko's approval.

An insider tells GLOBE, "While John clearly died from the horrific shooting,

Widow Yoko Ono saw the murder

Yoko Ono would not allow the autopsy report to be released to the public. That means we'll never learn if alcohol or drugs – legal or illegal – were in his system when he died.

"An autopsy report would have also revealed health issues he might have had, including any possible sexually transmitted diseases."

GLOBE AUTOPSY SHOCKERS!

MICKEY ROONEY WAS POISONED!

HOLLYWOOD legend Mickey Rooney's passing on April 6, 2014, raised red flags after a doctor signed the death certificate without an official autopsy – even though two of his daughters believe he was poisoned!

Ed Winter, assistant chief medical examiner for L.A.

County, examined 93-year-old Rooney's corpse after his office received reports the star was abused – which "turned out not to be true."

But he admits his office didn't conduct toxicology tests to detect any chemicals in his bloodstream, which Rooney's daughters, Kelly, 56, and Kerry, 54, suspect were present.

They became suspicious after learning their dementia-stricken father signed a new will on March 11, 2014. It cut out his seven surviving biological children and basically left his entire estate to stepson Mark and his wife, Darlene. They lived with Rooney during his final days.

According to biographer William J. Birnes, co-author of "The Life and Times of Mickey Rooney," the sisters are determined to uncover the truth but can't afford to exhume their father's body.

But while he was lying in state, Kelly "leaned over and cut off a bunch of Mickey's hair. Now they have the evidence if something turns up in his hair follicles," he says.

QUEEN'S CHEATING HUBBY UNMASKED!

Explosive new TV series documenting Philip's flings threatens dying Elizabeth

Cheater Philip and Elizabeth shortly before they wed in 1947

GLOBE
ROYAL NEWS

DYING Queen Elizabeth's 65-year marriage is about to be ripped apart by a candid TV series exposing her husband as a serial cheater and shameless hypocrite!

Palace courtiers fear the ugly truth — being aired for all to see — could kill the frail 89-year-old monarch, who has always turned a blind eye to her Greek-born Prince Philip's antics.

Philip, 94, is reviled for his sharp tongue and high-handed ways — and has the reputation of being a complete phony.

"Philip thinks there are rules for everyone else, but he can do what he pleases," says a Palace insider. "He's been cheating on Elizabeth since they first married. But with him it's do as I say, not as I do."

The two-faced Prince actually slammed his daughter-in-law, Princess Diana, over her extramarital romances, while giving his son Charles and his cheating wife, Camilla, a pass for the same behavior. Philip, of course, sees nothing wrong with HIS philandering, either!

But the Netflix TV series will expose his wicked ways — and he'll finally have no place to hide, say insiders.

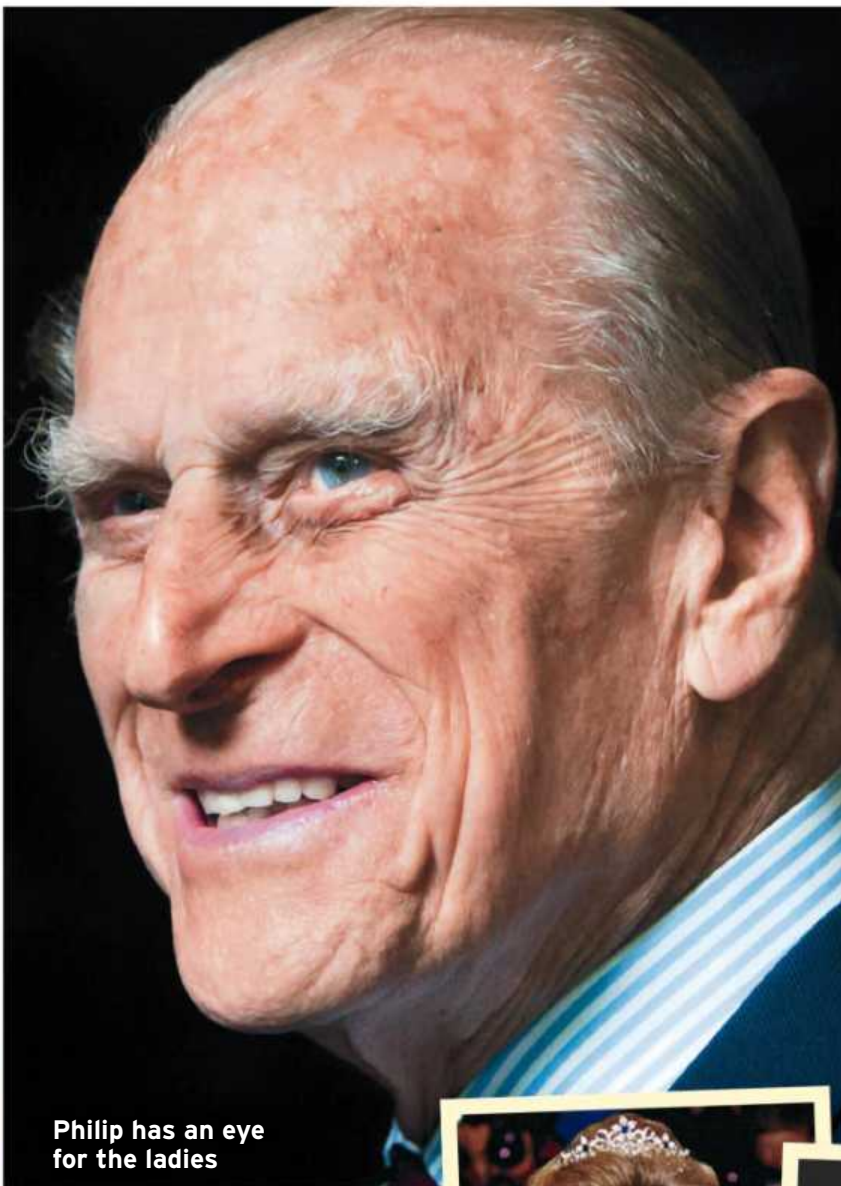

"This will show his true colors," says a source. "Palace courtiers aren't convinced his wife actually knows about his philandering."

Even on the eve of his Nov. 20, 1947 wedding, brazen Philip had a fling with the beautiful Daphne Du Maurier, who wrote "The Birds."

And a month before Elizabeth was due to give birth to Charles in 1948, Philip was linked to British star Pat Kirkwood, the first in a chorus line of showgirls he bedded.

"He had another girlfriend he'd meet regularly at one of the royal houses. When he left by the servants' entrance, he'd tell the Guardsman on duty, 'Don't forget, you haven't seen

Philip has an eye for the ladies me!” says the source.

“Philip went on to have a string of affairs with polo wives, duchesses, countesses and a number of famous actresses, said to include Jane Russell, Merle Oberon, Shirley MacLaine and Zsa Zsa Gabor.”

But his most shocking hookup was a 20-year fling with Princess Alexandra of Kent, the Queen’s cousin and married mother of two!

“Those who have seen them together note how close they are — the way they talk to each other, the body language, the natural intimacy,” says Nicholas Davies, author of

“Elizabeth — Behind Palace Doors.”

According to Davies, their affair began in the 1950s. Alexandra would visit Philip at Buckingham Palace and Windsor Castle — when Elizabeth was away — for steamy, private swims.

“When that affair cooled in the 1990s, he switched his attentions to Lady Penny Romsey, who shares his love of carriage driving,” says the insider.

“Remember, this is the man who wrote to Diana, calling her a ‘harlot and a trollop’ — when he’s the biggest royal bed-hopper there is.

“Now, this series may doom his own marriage — or kill his wife!”

THE PRINCE'S CONSORTS

KATE'S FEUDING WITH KID SIS!

Kate has had enough of whining Pippa

PRINCESS Kate is furious with little sister Pippa Middleton, who is blaming the Royals for her failed career, Palace insiders reveal.

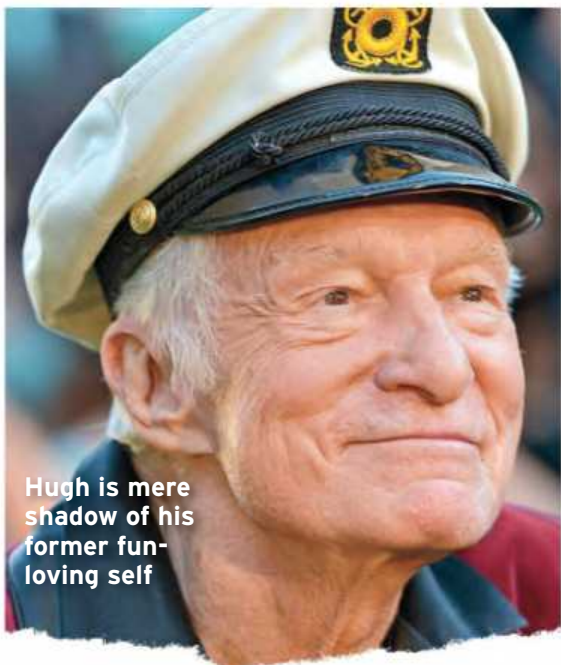

Pippa, 32, wants her blue-blooded in-laws to land her a high-profile position, and it's caused a major rift with Kate and Prince William.

“Kate is embarrassed by Pippa's desperate efforts to cash in on the Royal connection,” says the source. “And the squabble is ripping the Middletons apart! Even Kate's mother, Carole, is taking Pippa's side! That's not sitting very well with Kate, who is fighting with William's stepmom, Camilla. She doesn't need problems from her own flesh and blood.”

But fame-hungry Pippa just can't seem to find success. She's flopped as an author, newspaper columnist and TV correspondent. Her romance with wealthy stockbroker Nico Jackson just went belly-up, too.

“Pippa is demanding sisterly support,” says the source. “That's driving Kate crazy! Now she feels the only people she can trust is her husband.”

HEFNER'S HOUSE

Hugh is mere shadow of his former fun-loving self

NOW A SQUALID PRISON!

PLAYBOY boss Hugh Hefner's notorious Los Angeles mansion — once the scene of outrageous celebrity sex parties — is now a creepy rundown retirement home where visitors are more likely to bump into nurses than luscious naked women!

Just days after Hef's famous skin magazine announced it will no longer print explicit nude photos, Playmate Carla Howe reveals what REALLY goes on these days at the 22-bedroom estate in Holmby Hills, Calif. And it's NOT what you think!

Like its frail and aging owner, the Playboy Mansion, where A-list celebs including Leonardo DiCaprio, Colin Farrell and Owen Wilson once ran wild, has seen much better times. It smells of decay, dog urine, mildew and moldering, stained mattresses, visitors say. An ever more reclusive Hef wanders the halls accompanied by his medical staff instead of buxom beauties, Carla reveals.

The rooms are dingy, crammed with woefully out-of-date furniture that's a hodgepodge of style and a monument to tacky taste. Amazingly, the mansion is no longer a "place of excess with orgies and

But it was a different story back in the day. Hef's former No. 1 Girlfriend, Holly Madison, claims the Playboy honcho offered her a Quaalude as a "thigh opener" the first night she met him at a club. Holly, 35, who lived at the mansion from 2001 through 2008, says she had sex with the swinger the first time she was summoned to his bedroom — along with six other gals!

But now, rather than host celebrity sex galas, the 89-year-old spends quiet nights at the sprawling Gothic-style estate adhering to a strict — and boring — regime, says Carla.

Dinner is served promptly at 6:30 every night. The occupants of the house join fragile Hefner in eating beef and parsley sauce, which she says tastes "like hospital food."

After dinner, Hefner mostly wants "to play chess with his friends and watch old films," Howe reveals.

There are still women living at the house. But they have a strict 9 p.m. curfew and men are banned from the mansion. It's "like being in prison," she says.

Carla claims the antiquated building needs serious help, but Hefner "refuses to change anything and the whole place feels like it's stuck in the 1980s."

The raven-haired beauty says the home looks worn out, with old phones hanging on the walls, and damp smelling bedrooms that feel "cold and unused."

Her claims back up tales by former resident and playmate Izabella St. James, 40, who says the life of a Playboy bunny was far from glamorous.

"Each bedroom had mismatched, random pieces of furniture," she recalls. "It was as if someone had gone to a charity shop and bought the basics for each room. Although we all did our best to decorate our rooms and make them homey, the mattresses on our beds were disgusting — old, worn and stained. The sheets were past their best, too."

But it wasn't all that long ago the mansion was hosting the top celebs in Hollywood for wild bashes. The list of stars who once partied in the house off Sunset Boulevard included: George Clooney, Jim Carrey, Charlie Sheen, Warren Beatty, Brad Pitt, Vanna White and disgraced comedian Bill Cosby.

Izabella says Leo, Colin and Owen could "click their fingers" to take their pick of girls at the house.

"These boys caused a stir at every party," she says. "Leo practically lived at the mansion. I lost count of the times I saw him bundling five or six girls into a limo to take back to his house." But she says Leo also loved to sneak onto the grounds and have sex next to the monkey enclosures.

But those times are long gone. Carla says aging Hef is a shadow of his former self and "almost never leaves home."

HE'S been a stoner, a yogi and a Brat Pack creep. Plus he's obsessed with ritual and order. And can you believe he owns more than 30 hats? It's no wonder James Spader has been called "The Strangest Man on TV." Here are 10 things you don't know about the eccentric 55-year-old star of NBC's "The Blacklist" that definitely prove he's earned the title.

10 THINGS YOU DON'T KNOW ABOUT JAMES SPADER

1. James worked as a busboy, a truck driver and a yoga instructor – he even met ex-wife Victoria Kheel in a yoga studio!

2. "When I was 16 and 17, I was a pot-smoking hippie," he admits.

3. He was such a convincing sleaze when auditioning for the "Pretty in Pink" role of Steff that the casting director hated him on sight!

4. He won back-to-back Emmys for playing Alan Shore on both "The Practice" (2004) and "Boston Legal" (2005).

5. James is pals with "Avengers" co-star Robert Downey Jr. In the '80s, Robert and then-girlfriend Sarah Jessica Parker named their cat "Jimmy" after him.

6. James did the voice-over in TV commercials for Acura luxury cars.

7. He smokes American Spirit cigarettes.

8. Red's head-toppers on "The Blacklist" are a Spader trademark! "I have a lot of hats," he says. "I wear a hat every day, so they all get used."

9. "I'm a great fan of all things strange, eccentric and idiosyncratic," says James. "Things never get strange enough for me."

10. James is incredibly obsessive-compulsive. He can't watch people eating.

SACKED SOAP STAR GETS LAST LAUGH!

IT'S sweet revenge for Michael Easton, who's having the last laugh at the "General Hospital" bosses who fired him!

Since Michael's character was killed off in July, the soap has lost more than 140,000 viewers.

"Just months before he was axed, Michael was named the No. 1 ABC soap actor in a viewers' poll. He was shocked as anyone they kicked him to the curb," a source tells GLOBE.

Dr. Silas Clay was written out of the show last summer after "producers just felt they could go with cheaper, younger actors without any big backlash," the insider explains.

Now, the source says, Michael, 48, should be expecting a desperate phone call in the near future.

"It's only a matter of time before they ask him to come back," the source adds. "His popularity is evident, and they've seen the error of their ways."

E.T. GOT AWAY WITH

Chilling new testimony reopens 33-year-old probe into

SHOCKING new evidence recently surfaced in the 33-year-old cold-case murder of a young mom whose young daughter told cops: “E.T. did it!”

After an initial investigation, baffled police moved the slaying of Gail Mark — who was strangled and repeatedly stabbed — onto the back burner. Now the dead woman’s sister-in-law has stepped forward to claim Gail’s multimillionaire husband, Franklin Mark, was behind the killing!

“It was common knowledge in the family that my brother Franklin Mark was responsible for the death of Gail Mark in 1982,” says a sworn statement given by Ann Boyarksy. “It was believed that he hired a hit man to kill his wife.”

In 1982, 28-year-old Gail’s body was found in the Manhattan apartment she shared with Franklin and their three-year-old daughter, Dawn. Police say the killer

VICTIM

Gail Mark, 28, was stabbed repeatedly with a 10-inch knife. Her murderer was never brought to justice

SUSPECT

Franklin Mark hugs daughter Dawn, now 36 (below). She was just three when her mom died

WITNESS

Gail's mother, Rita, wants justice for her child locked the little girl in the bathroom just moments before the savage attack. But the kid saw enough.

Dazed and distraught little Dawn kept telling lawmen, “E.T. did it!” Her comment led investigators to believe the murderer donned the girl’s E.T. mask — based on the character from the then-hit movie “E.T., the Extra-Terrestrial” — before the bloodbath.

Although cops had suspects, the “E.T. killer” was never unmasked.

Now, with Ann’s sworn affidavit, cops believe they are closing in!

A Crime of Passion

Ann, who is embroiled in a bitter court battle with her brother, also claims Franklin had help pulling off his evil crime. And, she says, he had the money and influence to stage a cover-up.

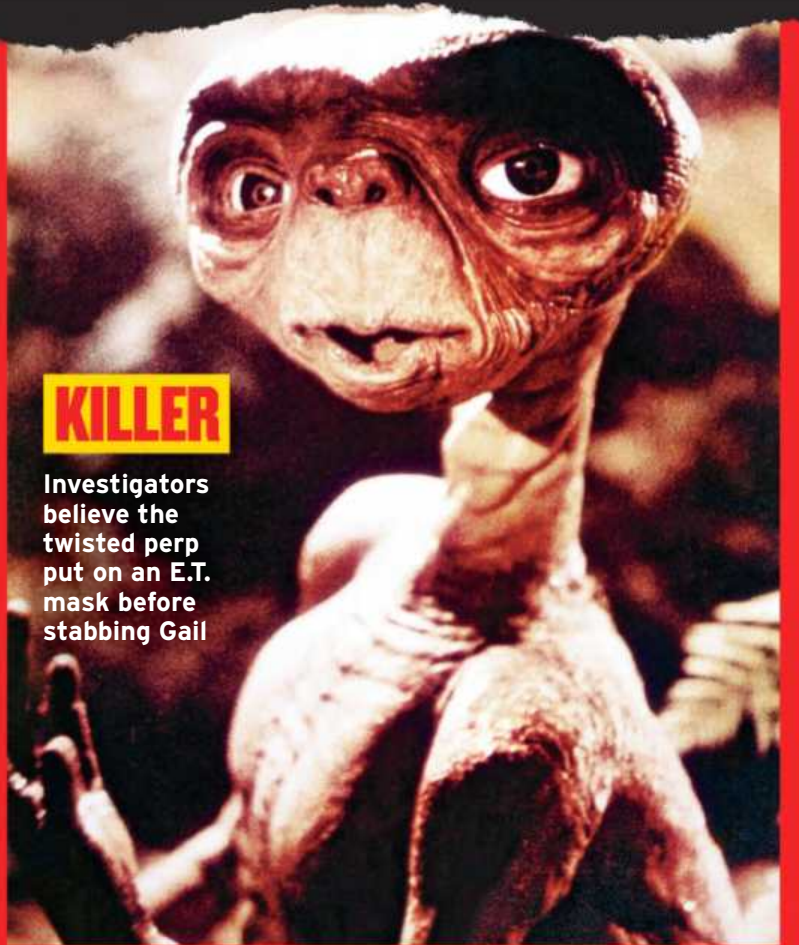

“I believe that my parents protected Franklin from prosecution,” says Ann, who is also in court trying to prove Franklin looted $10 million from their late mother.

Franklin, now 64, refuses to comment on his sister’s bombshell allegations.

Although he was never charged, cops say they considered Franklin’s alibi questionable from the get-go. He discovered Gail’s body —

MURDER!

o beauty's fatal stabbing

KILLER

Investigators believe the twisted perp put on an E.T. mask before stabbing Gail and lawmen suspected a cut on his hand might link him to his wife's gruesome knife wounds.

Police figured the murder was "a crime of passion" because Gail was stabbed so hard that the blade on the 10-inch murder weapon was bent! But they could never make anything stick.

The case was reopened in 2000 and went cold again when lawmen discovered that the E.T. mask that could have contained the killer's DNA had been destroyed while in police custody.

But Gail's mom Rita Fitzgerald, 82, is ecstatic that detectives have reopened the case yet again.

"If they can possibly do anything to bring her killers to justice, I think that would be wonderful," says Rita. "If you kill someone you should pay the penalty."

ABUSIVE HUBBY DESERVED TODIE!

Veteran second-grade teacher Angela was suspended without pay after killing her hubby — but was re-instated

ALL CHARGES DROPPED AGAINST GAL WHO RAN OVER CRUEL WIFE-BEATER

ABRUTALLY battered teacher who ran over her abusive husband has avoided a murder rap — thanks to a shocking 911 recording that had angry citizens leaping to her defense.

Police arrested second-grade teacher Angela Luke, 40, the day after her bank vice president husband, Daniel Luke, 42, was pronounced dead, socking her with two homicide charges!

But that was before a desperate 911 recording surfaced that captured Angela being mercilessly beaten.

The deadly drama unfolded at the couple's home, near Canal Winchester, Ohio, where Angela was attacked by her blotto husband in front of their two kids.

Their terrified 12-year-old daughter called 911.

"My dad is hurting my mom. He's making marks on my mom!" she yells on the recording, telling the dispatcher her dad had been drinking.

"Get off my mother!" she then screams.

Angela eventually bolted to her car in the driveway with the 12-year-old and her sister, 8.

As the deranged dad grabbed onto the side of the car, the older girl continued her horrifying report. "He's holding on. Can you come really fast?" she asks the operator before yelling, "Go fast, Mommy!"

Luke eventually lost his grip, slipped and was hit by the car as Angela pulled away to escape his terrible attack.

But instead of driving away after she hit him, Angela remained at the scene while her daughter urgently told the dispatcher her father was unconscious and bleeding from the head.

"My father's dead! My father's dead! My father's dead! Please come help, hurry!" she cries.

Paramedics arrived to find Luke barely alive, and rushed him to a hospital, where he died the following day.

Lawmen charged Angela with aggravated vehicle homicide and reckless homicide. Her school district bosses suspended her from her job without pay. Those decisions sparked outraged protests from Angela's colleagues and domestic violence activists, who brought the 911 tapes to the prosecution's attention.

When prosecutors heard the recording they realized Angela's vicious husband deserved what he got!

They immediately dropped all charges and Angela was reinstated to her job at Tussing Elementary School in Reynoldsburg, Ohio.

They just couldn't wait to use Lamar Odom's tragedy to steal the spotlight.

An out-of-control Lamar was found face down in a grim Nevada brothel where he had spent four days and $75,000.

Cops revealed Odom used both cocaine and herbal Viagra in the days leading up to his shocking collapse. Odom had track marks on his arms – and cocaine and opiates in his system – when he was found passed out and choking on mucus.

Of course, you remember his wife, Khloe Kardashian. He was depressed about their estrangement. I'm sure we all understand. Khloe and the rest of the family depress everyone!

They are cruel and unusual punishment.

After Lamar was hospitalized, Khloe, momager Kris and pregnant Kim jumped on a private plane to rush to his side. My good friends at RadarOnline report they had a camera with them. Gee, what a surprise!

And then the show began, starring Kris and her daughters in designer black dresses. One report said they strutted around "as if they were all widowed first ladies, straining to show distress on perfectly made-up, Botoxed faces."

Of course, there were also Kardashian Internet postings

AND ONE MORE THING ... it looks like Eddie Murphy is finally off the "I love Bill Cosby" train. Earlier this year, he wouldn't impersonate the

He did mock Cosby while recently accepting a Mark Twain prize at Washington's Kennedy Center.

Miranda and Kenny looked like a perfect fit at the CMT Music Awards, and the two superstars could get even closer on the road

MIRANDA HOOKS UP WITH OLD PAL KENNY!

She's getting last laugh on her party animal ex

SEXY country diva Miranda Lambert is getting sweet revenge on ex-husband Blake Shelton — by fooling around with their good pal Kenny Chesney!

The 31-year-old singer will join hunky Kenny, 47, on a summer tour next year, and insiders are predicting sparks will fly!

"Miranda knows that getting together with Kenny will totally get under Blake's skin," says an insider. "Their tour is a perfect opportunity for romance!"

Chesney and Lambert have

Blake was rumored to be "harmonizing" with "Voice" co-star Gwen Stefani — but cheating rumors followed Miranda, too been cozy since touring together in 2009. They even reunited for a duet in Chicago this June, wowing the crowd with a duet on "You and Tequila."

Kenny also performed with Blake at the iHeartRadio Music Festival in September, but it's clear he's sweeter on the ex-Mrs. Shelton.

"She's the kind of woman who understands that complicated feeling of waiting for something that's not good for you, but feels so good," he's said — commenting on her singing, and maybe her taste in men!

Lambert was off-limits to her touring partner during their concerts six years ago. She was already dating her future husband in 2006.

Lambert and Shelton would marry in 2011, but they split this past July amid rumors of cheating on both sides.

Kenny is good pals with Blake, but "the fastest girl in town" could change that Shelton's been linked to his "Voice" co-star Gwen Stefani, who recently dumped HER husband, Gavin Rossdale.

As for Chesney, insiders say he's enjoying the single life.

He's been linked to many women — after being briefly married to actress Renée Zellweger in 2005 — and remains "definitely on the prowl," reveals the insider.

Chesney even announced his tour with Lambert by declaring, "I love every single thing about who she is as an artist and a person."

Says the source, "Kenny would love adding Miranda to his list of conquests!"

■ TRAGIC Joan Rivers died while undergoing surgery – but the true causes of her death will never be known because the motor-mouth comic and star of “Fashion Police” wasn’t given an autopsy!

Rivers, 81, went into cardiac arrest during a routine procedure to evaluate acid reflux at New York’s Yorkville Endoscopy clinic on Aug. 28, 2014. She died on Sept. 4.

Famed forensic pathologist Dr. Cyril Wecht noted doctors pumped 120 mg of the powerful anesthetic propofol – which killed Michael Jackson in 2009 – into the comedienne.

“That’s a lot,” says Wecht.

He says if evidence showed her two doctors bungled the procedure and that led to her death, they could’ve been charged with involuntary manslaughter. “You have gross negligence here,” says Wecht. “This is a death that should not have occurred.”

The star was rushed directly to burial after being removed from life support, without any post mortem!

The medical examiner’s office went with the family’s decision not to have an autopsy because of their Jewish faith.

Wecht calls the failure to thoroughly investigate her death outrageous even though Rivers’ doctors have denied any wrongdoing.

“When you have a death occurring like this during elective surgery, an autopsy has to be done,” he insists. But the Manhattan District Attorney’s Office refused to comment on whether it was conducting a criminal probe.

DIG UP JOHN RITTER!

POST MORTEM EXAM WILL PROVE STAR’S
DEATH WAS FOUL PLAY

John Ritter died at the same hospital where he was born

■ JOHN RITTER’S body should be exhumed and subjected to an autopsy to prove the beloved “Three’s Company” star DIDN’T die from natural causes – but was MURDERED!

That’s the demand of a friend, who insists the star’s death was covered-up to make it appear the 54-year-old comic genius died of an aortic dissection, a rip in the largest blood vessel in the body.

The pal says he believes

CHILDHOOD OBSESSION KILLED SHIRLEY TEMPLE!

■ BEHIND her trademark smile, legendary child star Shirley Temple was so tormented by the pressures of fame, she secretly turned to cigarettes to calm her nerves.

In the 1930s, Hollywood portrayed smoking as glamorous. But Shirley's lifelong obsessive habit led to chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD) and her death at age 85 in her Woodside, Calif., home in February 2014.

COPD causes

Cutie Shirley Temple started smoking while she was still in her early teens coughing, wheezing, chest tightness, shortness of breath, and makes even basic activities like walking, bathing and cooking, difficult.

"Shirley became a recluse," says a source. "She knew smoking had caused COPD, and there was no cure.

"As her health deteriorated, she insisted there be no services, memorials or gravesite – and no autopsy, when she died.

"It was a secret she wanted to take to her grave."

Even after the star of "Curly Top" and "Little Miss Marker" quit films in her late teens and became a career diplomat, "she tried desperately to hide the nasty habit to protect her 'goody goody' image," says the source.

Her family also tried to keep her smoking secret. When she died, they nixed an autopsy. But the truth was in her death certificate: Pneumonia and COPD.

Ritter, who fell ill on the set of the sitcom "8 Simple Rules" in September 2003, was POISONED!

"He died at 10:48 p.m., almost five hours after being brought to the hospital by paramedics," says the source. "But he had been sick on the set all day, with vomiting and sweats – classic symptoms for poisoning.

John with Joyce DeWitt and Suzanne Somers

"Because there was no autopsy, no one looked his body over for possible needle marks, and there was no toxicology screening."

According to reports, when John was taken to the E.R. at Providence Saint Joseph Medical Center in Burbank, Calif., at 6 p.m. he told a nurse he wanted to be registered under a pseudonym "Edwin Marcus" to protect his privacy.

The pal believes Ritter was sending a secret message that "someone was out to get him" because the letters in the name are an anagram that spell, "I warned scum."

The insider adds, "The 'aortic dissection' said to have killed him may have been the result of life-saving treatment as doctors cut open his chest and gave him compressions."

The father of four's widow, actress Amy Yasbeck, lost a $67 million lawsuit against doctors, but was awarded a $14 million settlement against medical personnel and the hospital.

But top Hollywood private eye Paul Huebl says, "it's not too late to get answers.

"He's buried at Hollywood's Forest Lawn Memorial Park, and it would take only a few hours to quietly dig him up, perform an autopsy, look for needle marks, take toxicology samples and then rebury him."

TRAGIC COVER-UPS BURY TRUTH ABOUT WHITNEY & BOBBI

MOTHER & DAUGHTER WERE MURDERED!

Bobbi Kristina clung to life for six months after she was discovered unconscious in a bathtub

SUPERSTAR Whitney Houston and her tragic, 22-year-old daughter Bobbi Kristina were BOTH murdered — but key evidence is being withheld in a massive double cover-up, sources charge.

Whitney's sister-in-law Leolah Brown says the deaths of mother and daughter, which are nearly identical, were "no accident."

And damning evidence is in the autopsies.

But John A. Carman, a former Secret Service agent turned law enforcement consultant, says the fact authorities are still refusing to release their findings after "Krissi" passed away in July "smacks of a double cover-up."

He also notes the similarities between the women's deaths calls for a murder investigation.

"Whitney ends up dead in a bathtub, covered with bruises, under hinky circumstances," he says. "Three years later, her daughter dies in a bathtub, covered with bruises, under hinky circumstances."

"There's a common theme — massive amounts of drugs they used and ruthless dealers who wanted to be paid."

He also notes "several of the same people," including Bobbi Kristina's boyfriend, Nick Gordon, 26, were present when both died.

An autopsy determined Whitney, 48, died of accidental drowning, with cocaine as a factor, in a Beverly Hills hotel suite in February 2012.

A month later, GLOBE revealed Brown claimed the death was no accident and expressed fears for the singer's daughter.

Now after 'Krissi' was found unresponsive in a bathtub in her Roswell, Ga., home on Jan.

31 and died six months later, Leolah is suspicious again.

"I believe somebody killed my niece, just like they killed her mother," she said.

Prosecutors are reportedly calling a grand jury to decide if Gordon should be indicted for murder in Krissi's case.

COMIC Robin Williams' death at his Tiburon, Calif., home on Aug. 11, 2014, was ruled a suicide by hanging by the Marin County coroner — but now an expert says the investigation may have overlooked murder!

"It seems the coroner was ready to close the case and didn't want to look at any alternate theories," says private investigator Dan Hanks, a former technical advisor to the Marin County Sheriff.

Robin was last seen alive by his third wife Susan before she went to bed in a separate room at 10.30p.m. the previous night. His body was found by his assistant the following morning hanging against a closed closet door in his

WRESTLER BENOIT: DEAD MAN WALKING!

■ Shocking new autopsy evidence reveals pro grappler Chris Benoit was suffering from fatal drug and steroid damage – and had less than 10 months to live when he murdered his wife and son before killing himself.

After suffocating wife Nancy, 43, and their boy Daniel, 7, the wrestler hung himself at their Fayetteville, Ga., home in June 2007. Autopsy experts later determined 40-year-old Benoit had severe brain damage due to the concussions he'd gotten over decades in the ring.

HE ONLY HAD 10 MONTHS
LEFT TO LIVE

But former sister-in-law Sandra Toffoloni says new evidence reveals Benoit's long use of drugs and steroids damaged his heart and triggered a murderous paranoia.

"The medical examiner told us Chris was on his way to death within 10 months," she says. "His heart was huge, three times larger than normal, and ready to blow up."

"He had a serious drug problem. The paranoia was a direct result of abuse of steroids."

Taffoloni believes Benoit "lost it" during a "roid rage" that sparked the bloodbath.

ROBIN WILLIAMS' QUICKIE PROCEDURE MISSED VITAL CLUES

Robin with wife Susan Schneider and on "Mork and Mindy" (right) bedroom The coroner noted that the door to Robin's room was locked from the inside.

"But the door had a push-button lock that anyone could have opened with a bobby pin!" says Hanks.

"Anyone who wanted to set up a suicide scene could have gone in, arranged it the way they wanted and then locked the door behind them."

According to the autopsy report, Williams, 63, who had been diagnosed with Parkinson's disease and was prescribed a cocktail of potent medications, "had enough drugs in his system to at least fall asleep," Hanks adds.

"So the scenario of drugging him first would make sense, because you can manipulate him very easily and place him in any position you want."

And shockingly, there was very little evidence that the Good Will Hunting star died a violent death, which would be expected with a hanging, Hanks points out.

"The ligature marks are not especially demonstrative, and there was little or no hemorrhaging," Hanks says. "That suggests he was asleep or incapacitated at the time his oxygen supply was cut off."

HENPECKED COWELL FINALLY GETS A JOB!

Baby mama PUSHES HIM into replacing Howard Stern on America's Got Talent

HENPECKED millionaire Simon Cowell is joining the judges' panel on "America's Got Talent" — after his baby mama told him to get to work!

Sources say the 56-year-old showbiz mogul was reduced to pestering AGT producers for the chance to replace radio shock jock Howard Stern.

He told them, "If you are looking for a very good-looking British judge which sort of fits this show, I know someone."

Cowell's pals dish that he was pushed into a comeback on American television by Lauren Silverman — the mother of his only child, 20-month-old Eric.

The 38-year-old knockout told Cowell she wanted to move back to America to be closer to her mom in Miami, and to see more of her 8-year-old son Adam, who attends school in Manhattan and often stays with Lauren's ex-hubby Andrew Silverman.

"Simon's worth $550 million so he didn't need AGT — but it's something he desperately wanted to keep Lauren happy," reveals an insider.

"Lauren's been desperate for him to snag the AGT gig," says an insider.

"After the miserable demise of his 'X-Factor' show, Simon needs something to keep him in the public eye here in the States!"

The show, a spin-off of "Britain's Got Talent" that Cowell created, is looking for him to return to his "Mr. Nasty" image from his days on "American Idol."

"I can't sit in front of someone who's useless and say, 'Take a couple of singing lessons and everything will be fine,'" he insists.

Adds the source: "Don't expect fatherhood to have mellowed Simon. His blunt — and sometimes insulting comments — are lapped up by huge audiences!"

BRANDO'S TORMENT: I'M A LIAR & A BEAST!

'Godfather' star's TAPED CONFESSIONS

SECRET tape recordings made by screen legend Marlon Brando reveal his hatred for Hollywood and how he branded his glittering movie career as nothing more than bullt.

And when it came to his notorious sex drive, the actor — who fathered 16 children from three marriages and countless affairs — admitted he was “a beast” who “had women coming in the door, going out the window.”

A good conman

The Oscar winner, who died in 2004 at age 80, bared his hidden anguish in more than 200 hours of never-before-heard audio recordings, some made under self-hypnosis. They are revealed in an explosive documentary, “Listen to Me Marlon.”

“I didn’t make any great movies. There’s no such thing as a great movie,” says “The Godfather” legend.

“There are no artists. We are businessmen. We’re merchants. There is no art. It’s all bullt.”

The Tinseltown giant candidly reveals being an actor sickened him.

“I can’t stand it. I hate it,” he says. “To have people staring at you like an animal in the zoo ... it’s been a struggle to try to preserve sanity and a sense of reality taken away by success.

“Lying for a living, that’s what acting is. If I hadn’t had the good luck to be an actor, I would probably have been a conman. A good conman.”

In another shocking revelation, he admits he used fame to feed his huge sexual appetite.

“The beast aspect of my personality overtook anything that was reasonable, rational, moral or decent,” he confesses.

Women flocked to him after “A Streetcar Named Desire.”

The candid documentary also uncovers the secret childhood demons behind Brando’s self-destruction — hatred for his tyrant father who beat him, and for his mother who abandoned her kids for the bottle.

“I’d have been better off in an orphanage,” he says.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

For the week of November 9 - November 15

by Emily Hamer-West

ARIES March 21 - April 20

Something big is weighing on your mind, Ram, but be careful who you confide in – not everyone is trustworthy of learning this secret. Flirtation turns into frustration on Tuesday, but when the moon moves into Sagittarius Friday, Cupid rules – and singles could find romance in a movie theater.

GEMINI May 22 - June 21

Feeling frazzled and a bit rundown? Unplug the phone and get to bed early – no more late-night chat sessions! Cash worries ease when Mercury and Jupiter align for luck and you learn of a windfall headed your way. This weekend, look for a knock on the door to bring a blast from the past!

LEO July 23 - August 23

Take time to pursue your passions while the sun and Jupiter align – you've been neglecting hobbies and the sunny side of life, and you've landed in the doldrums! The week can't be all fun, though – schedule that trip to the dentist. Look for cash Saturday – literally – on the ground or in a pocket!

LIBRA September 23 - October 23

You're overwhelmed and the house is a mess – don't try to handle everything yourself. Ask for help – the family will pitch in. Stern Saturn locks down your finances midweek, keeping cash from moving in – or out! But things ease by the weekend, when you'll see some luck – buy a lotto ticket!

SAGITTARIUS November 23 - December 21

What's happened to your optimism, Archer? You're usually the one looking for the silver lining. Grab hold of the upbeat energy of Jupiter and get your mojo back. Putting on a happy face attracts both love and luck! The Sagittarius moon gets you moving physically Saturday – it's about time!

AQUARIUS January 21 - February 18

Family relations are tense when negotiating plans for the upcoming holidays – step back and let others work out their part. You can make your own decisions later and still keep everyone happy! Midweek, you're inspired to start home renovation or redecorating. Ask a Leo for advice!

TAURUS April 21 - May 21

You want the whole world to hear your message, Bull, but whispering it softly will get more attention than shouting, while the sun is in Scorpio. A little finesse, and you'll get everything you want – and more. Say yes to a last-minute invitation for coffee or cocktails – there's love in the stars!

CANCER June 22 - July 22

Are you really tired, or just in a rut and bored to tears? Happily, news of fun times to come arrives during the new moon, and you'll be so engaged in interesting activities, your energy soars! Friday, look for bargains on big-ticket household items or electronics – it's also a good day to gift shop!

VIRGO August 24 - September 22

A career opportunity you've been hoping for comes through, thanks to Jupiter! Put some work into building your team under the Scorpio sun, and you'll meet fascinating people to lift your spirits. Optimism is your secret weapon for success. Take rumors with a huge grain of salt this week.

SCORPIO October 24 - November 22

Tempted to blow the budget? Think again! The planets warn this could cause a financial drain – and opportunities that demand ready cash are headed your way. News from a relative throws you off stride, but when Venus moves into Libra, you'll see how beneficial it is to you and your family.

CAPRICORN December 22 - January 20

Money and friendship don't blend well while Mars battles Mercury, Goat. Better to keep a bond intact than agree to float a loan and risk ending your relationship! Look for a major change in your romantic situation – for marrieds, a gesture of love from your mate; for singles, a proposal!

PISCES February 19 - March 20

A slower pace gives you breathing room to relax and catch up on neglected chores, but don't let your guard down when it comes to the budget, Fish. Keep on top of spending! Think carefully before taking up a new cause. You could learn you've agreed to something that goes against your beliefs!

WYNONNA REGAINS 55 lbs

And swears off dieting!

WEIGHT-challenged country star Wynonna Judd has gobbled back the 55 pounds she lost for “Dancing With the Stars” and is now so huge she needs help just to walk!

As these shocking and tragic photos show, the 51-year-old songbird, now crushing the scales at a whopping 295 pounds, needed assistance while also steadying herself with a hand on a car when she arrived in Las Vegas for a series of shows with mom Naomi.

“She went on a starvation diet for ‘DWTS,’” says a source. “Now she’s piled it back on.”

Adds a family friend: “Wy’s thrown in the towel.

“She’s struggled with her weight for years and has finally sworn off diets for good.

“The poor woman can’t even walk without help, but even that hasn’t convinced her to lose weight and keep it off.

singer had trimmed to 245 pounds with dance training for a 2013 stint on “DWTS.”

As GLOBE then reported, weight loss expert Dr. John McDougall noted her “hips, knees and ankles” would’ve then “suffered severe punishment from all of that extra weight, and she runs a high risk of permanent disability.”

Even with the loss, she still proved a load for partner Tony

Recent photos show Wynonna has packed on the pounds again

Dovolani to lug about the dance floor. She was “devastated” when they were the first pair to get the boot!

Wynonna has been a lifelong bulge battler. Unfortunately, she’s constantly compared to her actress sister Ashley and mom Naomi, who both are sexy-slim.

Now with third hubby Cactus Moser, who lost a leg in a 2012 motorcycle wreck, she admits she turns to food for comfort during times of emotional turmoil, saying, “I used food to soothe and reward.”

Says the family friend: “Wy’s back up to 295 pounds, and, at the rate she’s going, it won’t be long before she hits 300 or more.

HOW TO LIVE TO BE 100!

THE SECRET to aging well — and living to 100 — is staying active, socializing and NOT acting your age!

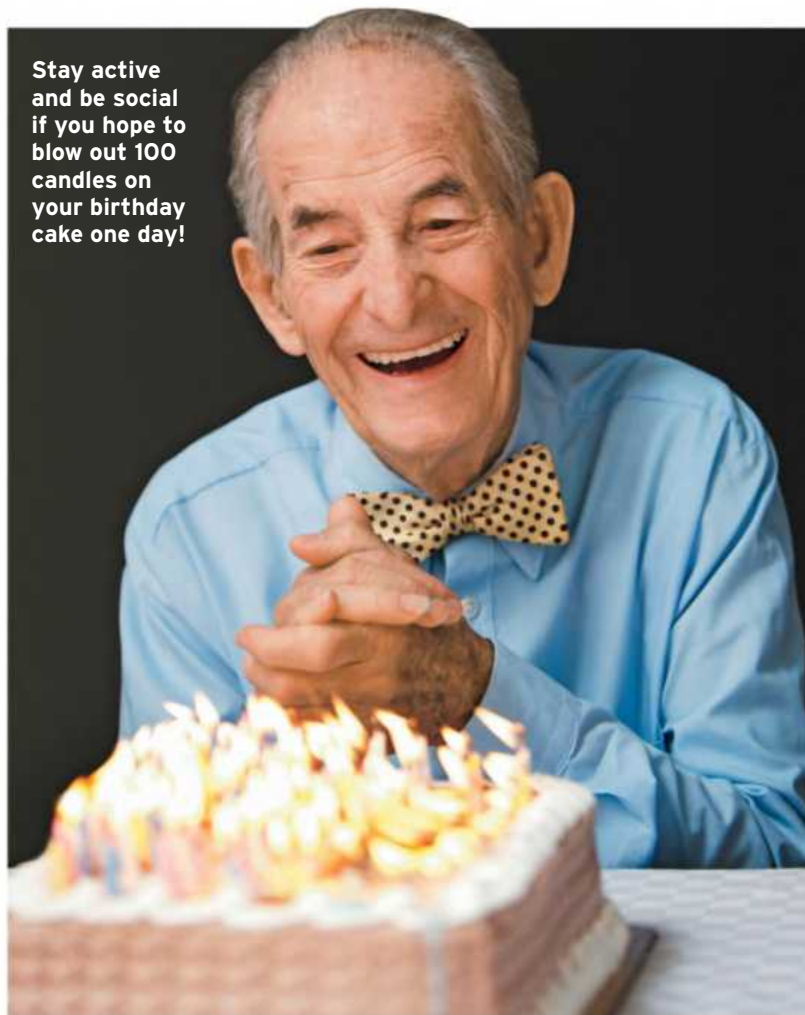

“Age is not a problem — society makes it a problem,” says aging expert Rudi Westendorp, a professor at the University of Copenhagen who stresses society needs to change its attitudes about the elderly.

“Old age and illness are two separate things.”

The researcher insists it's not healthy — or correct — to automatically assume getting older will make you sick and infirm. And today's Americans can't base their thinking on the lives and experiences of their parents or grandparents. Modern science has changed the way we live and often offsets genetic factors that impact longevity, he says.

Westendorp says leaps in science, medicine and technology have created longer, fuller lives.

Stay active and be social if you hope to blow out 100 candles on your birthday cake one day!

Less than 100 years ago, the average life expectancy in the developed world was 40, he notes. Now it's 80, the professor says in his new book, “Growing Older Without Feeling Old: On Vitality and Ageing.”

He insists “75 is the new 65!”

Westendorp believes staying active, maintaining social networks and setting goals are key ways to maintain good health and enjoy our increasingly lengthy golden years.

And people must embrace life and “tell yourself you are going to be around for a while,” he says, predicting the average lifespan will exceed 100 years in the not-too-distant future.

To live longer, you have to stay positive and decrease your fears of illness as the years pass.

Adds Westendorp, “Now that we are living longer, healthier lives than ever before, we have the opportunity and responsibility to fill them with meaning.”

Why whey combats diabetes!

+ HERE'S a great “whey” to fight diabetes: Drink the milk-based protein before breakfast! A new study shows whey protein helps reduce the body's need for insulin and is a good weapon against Type 2 diabetes. Scientists found people who drank a whey protein shake showed a 28% decrease in glucose levels.

Shaking hands is dangerous!

+ SHAKING hands can make you sick! The fist-bump is the healthiest way to greet friends and acquaintances, says a new British study. The fist-bump transfers about 80 percent fewer germs than a traditional, formal handshake. And a high-five passes on about half the bugs spread by gripping hands because skin-to-skin contact is much shorter. Scientists warn shaking hands actually spreads many infectious diseases!

Nancy Reagan takes a tumble at a 2014 event – and is saved from severe injury by U.S. Sen. Marco Rubio

WARNING! INFECTIONS CAN MAKE YOU FALL!

NEARLY half of all falls are caused by infection, not clumsiness, surprising new research reveals.

According to a report presented to the Infectious Diseases Society of America, urinary tract infections are the biggest culprit, followed by germs attacking the bloodstream, lungs and the heart.

Scientists at Massachusetts General Hospital say these conditions often lead to dizziness, feeling light-headed and low blood pressure, which can all cause a tumble. Former First Lady Nancy Reagan, 94, has suffered frequent falls as she ages – and even broke her pelvis. In 2014, she collapsed at a Republican Party event and was rescued by U.S. Sen. Marco Rubio of Florida.

Despite early warning signs, many infections, especially in the elderly, go undiagnosed until a patient is hospitalized after taking a fall, says Dr. Farrin Manian, the study's lead researcher.

MACHO MARINE TURNS SEX-SWAP SWEETIE!

Afghan war vet loses beard, wife
& 100 lbs. — but gains 34D boobs

A HARD-AS-NAILES military man is sure to shock his wartime buddies at the next reunion — especially when they see his stunning curves!

That's because huge and hairy 240-pound Marine Matthew Avedian has transformed into a stunning, busty woman named Sona.

It was only a few years ago that Sona, who served multiple tours in Iraq and Afghanistan, was living "the American Dream" in Detroit.

The vet had a great job, a neurologist wife and a beautiful little girl to drive home to in a flashy TransAm.

But Sona battled a soul-destroying secret — he wanted to be a SHE!

"I could only hide so much. I was exhausted," says Sona. "All these years I'd been living a lie and I realized it was time to be true to myself."

In November 2012, Sona stunned wife Lucy by announcing she was going to live as a woman.

"We talked all night, and both of us cried. By the end of the night, Lucy promised to support me through my journey," Sona reveals.

She lost over 100 pounds and started hormone therapy. She also had hair removal and plastic surgery to give her 34D breasts.

The results are stunning — the war hero looks like a pin-up girl!

Sona, 33, now lives in Austin, Texas, and is much happier with her new identity.

"I was following the American Dream, and it was so depressing," she says, adding her military life was a way to hide from her shocking sexual preference.

"Personally I'm much happier. I don't have any conflicts with who I am. I am definitely a tomboy and that's OK. Before, I couldn't stand myself and I couldn't interact with people."

The newly minted woman works as a driver for Uber, and continues to adapt. She says she's single, but has "met a few nice guys" in Texas.

Most importantly, she has a great relationship with her 5-year-old daughter.

Says Sona, "My daughter and I are awesome. She adores being around me. She only remembers me as a woman and I love how we interact. We are so much alike."

FORMER late night king Jay Leno is taking it on the chin as his latest prime-time venture, "Jay Leno's Garage," has stalled big-time!

After drawing nearly a million viewers to the premiere episode on CNBC, the car-enthusiast series has fallen flatter than a punctured tire — with 25 percent of the audience deciding not to slip behind the wheel for a second spin with Jay.

"'Jay's Garage' is about as exciting as an oil change," says a critic. "It's dull and lacks the spark of other cable car shows like 'Top Gear.'"

Leno's offering focuses on classic rides, road tests, celebrity interviews and the inner workings of the collectors' market — but "it's not ready for prime time," the critic says.

And this isn't the first time Leno has hit a speed bump in prime time. In 2009 he tried to bring late-night flavor to the 10 p.m. time slot with "The Jay Leno Show," but the sketch and celebrity interview series sputtered and died. The wreck was sent to the junkyard after four months.

And television insiders are predicting that's exactly where Jay's latest road trip will wind up in the very near future!

DENZEL CHECKS INTO THE HOSPITAL

THE latest famous visitor to ABC's blockbuster Thursday night lineup is Oscar-winning movie star Denzel Washington, who will be checking into the flagship drama "Grey's Anatomy" this season.

However – sorry fans – his star turn won't be in front of the camera. Denzel is directing this season's ninth episode, set to air later this month.

He's no stranger to the director's chair, having helmed movies like "Antwone Fisher," but this is the first time he's trying his hand at TV.

So, why pick "Grey's"?

Washington is a longtime friend of director and newly minted executive producer Debbie Allen, who also plays Dr. Catherine Avery on the long-running medical soap.

'MOM' STRUGGLES WITH SOBRIETY

DARKLY funny CBS sitcom "Mom" has Bonnie (Allison Janney) and her daughter, Christy (Anna Faris), rebuilding their lives after Bonnie fell off the wagon last year.

"They're very much on a similar path of recovery and stuttering redemption," says show boss Chuck Lorre.

But just because mother and daughter each are feeling their way back to solid ground doesn't mean everything is back to normal. Ugly issues of addiction continue to rear their head, especially when their AA pal Regina, played by Oscar winner Octavia Spencer, returns.

She declares, "She's not an alcoholic and is going to start drinking again – and it really puts that friendship to the test," says Chuck.

Bonnie (left), has a family conference with daughter Christy

Another test comes from a new character played by Emily Osment ("Young & Hungry"), who's on the run from an abusive relationship and seeks help at the women's AA meetings. Unfortunately, she doesn't think older, wiser addicts like Christy and Bonnie have much to teach her.

"So, we get to explore the arrogance of youth coupled with addiction," explains Chuck.

TV FACT

"As the World Turns" was the show airing on Nov. 22, 1963, when CBS interrupted programming and Walter Cronkite informed a shocked nation of President John F. Kennedy's assassination.

Retirement in Reverse: Better read this if you are 62 or older and still making mortgage payments.

More than 1 million seniors have taken advantage of this "retirement secret."

Americans are living longer. Home values are up. And for many senior citizens, their home is their single biggest asset, often accounting for more than 50% of their net worth.

With the cost of basic necessities such as food on the rise, it's no wonder why more and more seniors are using HECM reverse mortgages to turn their home equity into extra cash for retirement.

However, there are still millions of homeowners who could benefit from this FHA-insured loan but may simply not be aware of this "retirement secret," notes Former U.S. Senator Fred Thompson.

"You know, some people have told me that reverse mortgages sound too good to be true. You get cash out of your home, no monthly payments, and you still own your home," says Senator Thompson.

NO MONTHLY MORTGAGE PAYMENTS? * EXTRA CASH?

FACT: In 1988 President Reagan signed the FHA Reverse-Mortgage Bill.

It's true, no monthly mortgage payments are required with a reverse mortgage; the homeowners only have to pay for maintenance, property taxes, homeowner's insurance and, if required, their HOA fees.

In fact, reverse mortgages took hold when president Ronald Reagan signed the FHA mortgage bill into law over 25 years ago to help senior citizens remain in their homes. "They're simply an effective way for folks 62 and older to get the cash they need to enjoy their retirement," notes Thompson.

Although today's HECM reverse mortgages have been greatly improved to provide greater protection for homeowners, there are still a lot of misconceptions. For example, many people mistakenly believe the home must be paid off in full in order to qualify for a reverse mortgage, which is not the case. One key benefit of a reverse mortgage is that it automatically pays off your existing mortgage, which frees up cash flow, a huge blessing for those on a fixed income.

Unfortunately, many homeowners who could benefit from a reverse mortgage don't even bother to get more information due to

"It has been 3 months and now I have the peace of mind knowing that the money is here when I need it. I was able to pay down my credit card debt, get my car repaired, and make home improvements..."

- Ann, E. VA

rumors they've heard. That's a shame because reverse mortgages are helping many seniors live a better life.

A recent survey by American Advisors Group (AAG), the nation's number one reverse mortgage lender, found that 97% of their clients were satisfied with their reverse mortgages.

If you're a homeowner age 62 or older, you owe it to yourself to learn more. You may be pleasantly surprised by what you discover.

Reverse Mortgage Company

*If you qualify and your loan is approved, a HECM Reverse Mortgage must pay off your existing mortgage(s). With a HECM Reverse Mortgage, no monthly mortgage payment is required. Borrowers are responsible for paying property taxes and homeowner's insurance (which may be substantial). We do not establish an escrow account for disbursements of these payments. Borrowers must also occupy home as primary residence and pay for ongoing maintenance; otherwise the loan becomes due and payable. The loan must be paid off when the last borrower, or eligible non-borrowing surviving spouse, dies, sells the home, permanently moves out, or does not comply with the loan terms. Call 1-800-791-8492 to learn more.

A HECM Reverse Mortgage increases the principal mortgage loan amount and decreases home equity (it is a negative amortization loan). American Advisors Group (AAG) works with other lenders and financial institutions that offer reverse mortgages. To process your request for a reverse mortgage, AAG may forward your contact information to such lenders for your consideration of reverse mortgage programs that they offer.

FAREWELL TO THREE STARS!

Pat passed on Sept. 29

THREE lights have gone out in Hollywood, leaving the entertainment community and fans devastated.

Pat Woodell, who died of cancer on Sept. 29 at age 71, was the original Bobbie Jo Bradley on the 1960s hit "Petticoat Junction." After two seasons, Pat felt her role "was going nowhere." She quit in 1965. But Pat was always sorry she left, a source says.

Meanwhile, Shirley Jones' husband, actor and talent agent Marty Ingels, passed from complications due to a stroke on Oct. 21. He was 79. "There's not a day I won't miss him and love him to my core," the "Partridge Family" actress said.

Three Dog Night singer and founding member Cory Wells, 74, died unexpectedly on Oct. 20 at his home.

Bandmate Danny Hutton mourned: "We had been together since 1965 and I am in shock at this sudden loss."

TRICKY DICK

EXPOSED!

Nixon creeped out female staffers with his sad seduction technique

COMMANDER-IN-CREEP Richard Nixon was a bizarre sexual predator who harrassed female aides with cringe-worthy attempts to get into their pants!

But Nixon was such a lame lothario, practical jokers once put a blow-up doll in his bedroom – because that's the ONLY way he could get lucky.

According to Bob Woodward's new book "The Last of the President's Men," the disgraced former President regularly chased women when wife Patricia was away.

On a Saturday night in 1972, Nixon summoned prim and proper secretary Nell Yates, then 48, to Camp David, the presidential retreat in Maryland.

When she returned to the White House "three hours later," Nixon's deputy assistant Alexander Butterfield recalls Nell as being "openly distraught."

The stunned secretary described the encounter as "'the most painful, uncomfortable evening of my life,'" says Butterfield. He says she told him Nixon spent "an awful lot of time starting to make moves and then withdrawing."

But that wasn't the last of it. Tricky Dick also horrified Butterfield by summoning 42-year-old secretary Beverly Kaye to sit with him while flying in Air Force One.

Transfixed by Beverly's miniskirt, Nixon just stared at her thighs.

"And finally, just out of the blue, he starts patting her on her bare legs,"

Butterfield says. "In the manner of patting a young girl, like a 4-year-old girl."

Beverly "stiffened up like you can't believe," Butterfield says, adding Nixon kept it up for 10 minutes. Butterfield cringes at the memory, saying, "I just thought, 'The poor, pitiful son of a bitch.'"

LIZ TAYLOR HAD WILD 3-WAY WITH JFK!

VIOLET-EYED vixen Elizabeth Taylor got her start in seduction with some of Tinseltown's and Washington's most notorious playboys: Errol Flynn, Mickey Rooney, Orson Welles, and future presidents Ronald Reagan and John F. Kennedy!

A scandalous recent biography, "Elizabeth Taylor: There Is Nothing Like A Dame," reveals a long, raunchy roster of older guys who helped turn little Liz into a ravenous maneater — with the future President Kennedy right at the top!

Authors Danforth Prince and Darwin Porter insist Liz lost her virginity to actor Peter Lawford, a future Kennedy in-law, in a limo at 15 — and she made her own Kennedy connection thanks to "A Date With Judy" co-star Robert Stack.

The handsome Stack hooked her up with young Massachusetts Congressman John F. Kennedy, and they had an athletic threesome in a swimming pool, claims the sensational book.

Kennedy had just started his term in the House of Representatives and was secretly married to socialite Durie Malcolm, the authors claim.

It wasn't Elizabeth's only pre-presidential party. The book describes how she landed on Ronald Reagan's casting couch angling for a role in 1947's "That Hagen Girl."

She later told friends: "I could tell he wanted to get it on, but he seemed reluctant to make the first move."

That wasn't the case with infamous skirt-chaser Errol Flynn, who got the teenage Taylor drunk on pink champagne and seduced her at his home. Or Orson Welles, who Liz said assaulted her in his dressing room.

Her rocky, often tragic, path started with pal Roddy McDowall. Her costar in 1943's "Lassie Come Home," Roddy advised her on how to please men. She was 11, he was 15.

A year later, she met Mickey Rooney while doing "National Velvet."

His wife Betty Jane would eventually walk in on them in Mickey's dressing room — and catch then-14-year-old Elizabeth performing a sex act on her 29-year-old cheating hubby!

Liz's first marriage — to hotel heir Conrad "Nicky" Hilton, Jr. at 17 — was equally outrageous, says her lust biography.

She spent her honeymoon romping with Prince Rainier of Monaco and Tony Curtis!

FLASHBACK

SPANKY'S GIANT JAM

GEORGE "SPANKY" McFARLAND looks awfully wary while perching in the lap of 7-foot-5 Tex Madsen! This shot captures a classic scene from the 1934 "Our Gang" short "Mama's Little Pirate," in which the little rascal discovers a giant's treasure. The careers of both actors would end up hampered by their size. Roles for giants were understandably limited – and Spanky soon outgrew the "Our Gang" series. Acting jobs proved scarce for the adult McFarland, who had starred in 95 classic film shorts in just 11 years. Before he died in 1993, a bitter Spanky said, "I started at the top and worked my way down." He wasn't entirely joking!
